China to Send Delegation to UN Soon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Red China notified the United Nations today it will send a delegation in the "near future" to take the seat voted it last Monday.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A diplomat whose government has close relations with Communist China predicted today that Peking's first delegation to the United Nations would arrive late next week with Deputy Foreign Minister Hsiao Kuan-hua at its head.

The diplomat said he expected the delegation to consist of about 12 persons, most of them from Peking but several from the Chinese Embassy in Ottawa.

A U.N. spokesman said that acting Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei of Red China had not responded yet to two messages sent by Secretary-General U Thant.

The first, sent late Monday night, said the General Assembly had just adopted a resolution recognizing Peking's representatives as "the only lawful representatives of China" to the U.N. and expelling the Nationalist Chinese.

The second message, on Wednesday, asked that Chi inform Thant at his earliest convenience "of the name of your representative on the Security Council," since the council was organized "to function continuously."

A member of the council said the president for October, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, planned to call a meeting Saturday morning even if the Chinese had not sent a representative.

The delegate said Sevilla-Sacasa wanted to uphold the principle that the council can meet in the absence of a permanent member, as it did during the 1950 Soviet boycott. Freedom from the Soviet veto then permitted the council to authorize sending a U.N. force to Korea when North Korea invaded South Korea.

The council president also thinks Argentina deserves a vote on its pending resolution calling for Thant to contact South Africa about self-determination for South-West Africa, the delegate added.

A meeting before the arrival of Peking's representative probably would provoke a Soviet protest. A diplomat informed on the Soviet Union's position said the council president knew the Russians would regard such a meeting as "a demonstration against the People's Republic of China."

Cubans Are Transferred to Base

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A group of Cubans who had been kept in a motel after flying into the country illegally have been transferred to the U.S. Naval Air Station at Belle Chase.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the move was made to simplify detention.

"People seem to have forgotten that those people are in the custody of immigration officials," the spokesman said. "They entered the country illegally."

The Cubans, 19 technicians who wanted to attend a sugar convention here and the three-man crew of the Russian-built plane which made the trip Tuesday, were moved Thursday to the air station, a few miles south of here.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. John L. McClellan and J. W. Fulbright, both D-Ark., voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate adopted an amendment to strike from the foreign aid bill a provision cutting off funds for all U.S. operations in Indochina except funds for withdrawal.

The amendment passed 47-44.

Governor Is Speaker

Declaring "Hempstead County is the fastest growing county in the state economically," Governor Dale Bumpers formally dedicated Corn Belt Feed Mill and Hope Foods Corporation here yesterday before an estimated 500 to 700 persons.

"Don't stop now, you can do better than you are doing and you can't afford to rest on your laurels," said the Governor who was also guest speaker at dinner sponsored by the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation where it was revealed that Permaneer Corp. plans to locate a furniture factory here that will employ 450 to 500 persons.

Ferd M. Kisor, Kroger vice president, headed a delegation of company representatives. Mr. Bumpers also urged local voters to pass two bond issues scheduled for Nov. 9. The bonds are for Permaneer Corp. to expand its plant in the Proving Ground and for Tennessee Forging Steel to construct a new plant in the same area to make fabricated steel building products. Both industries will employ an additional 340 persons.

Hope Foods Corp., co-owned by Tom Duncan and Hillman Koen, processes hens of producers who have Kroger contracts. The plant has just started production in other SPG area and now employs about 60 persons but will eventually work 85 or more.

The Corn Belt Feed Mill, a subsidiary of the Kroger Co. of Cleveland, the nation's third largest retail food chain, will employ 40 persons. Mr. Kisor said Kroger's poultry and egg Production is scheduled for late 1972. Employment will be between 450 and 500.

Payments in Lieu of Taxes Will Be Enough for Schools, County

The Honorable Sam Strong, Mayor
City of Hope, Arkansas

Re: Proposed Bond Issue City of Hope and Permaneer Corporation

Dear Mayor Strong:

I am writing relative to the above referred to matter to advise that Permaneer Corporation and Wynnewood Products Company agree, in the event the bond issue is approved by the Voters, to pay to the City Treasury of the City of Hope, Arkansas, a sufficient amount of money each year equal to the taxes which would normally be assessed and due on the present property and additions thereto.

It is understood that this payment, in lieu of taxes, will be apportioned between the Hope School District, the City of Hope and Hempstead County, as established from time to time by the assessor and the various divisions of the taxing authority.

We want to assure you that Permaneer Corporation recognizes, in order to obtain and maintain qualified employees at its facilities, that it is essential that the school district, the City and the County, receive tax support from the industries in the area.

We also would like to take this opportunity to thank the City Directors, the members of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Inc. and the Citizens of the city for encouraging us to move forward to the hopeful realization of the expansion of our present manufacturing facilities. As we have reiterated in the past, we are encouraged with the possibility of employing many of the young people of the community in our new manufacturing facility, as well as any other citizens of Hope who would be interested in employment with us. Very truly yours,

Sidney L. Stone

Vice President

Blizzard Swirls in the Rockies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blizzard whirled through the central Rocky Mountains today stranding hundreds of motorists in Wyoming, and freezing rain slowed travelers in Kansas, Nebraska and several other states in the Great Plains.

In Little America, Wyo., authorities were trying to find ways of accommodating more than 450 travelers who have been unable to proceed along Interstate 80 because of the heavy snow and poor visibility.

Interstate 80 is the main east-west artery through the mountains in Wyoming. Many of the motorists have been stranded since Wednesday night.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol closed I-80 early Thursday from Laramie to the Utah border.

The National Weather Service continued its blizzard warning for the region, but some authorities said the roads may open late today.

Meanwhile a heavy snow warning was put into effect from Utah and northern Arizona to the central Plains.

Freezing temperatures and snow flurries were scattered along the northern Plains states to Lake Superior. In Nebraska and Kansas freezing rain and drizzle created hazardous driving early today.

Cold weather prevailed in the Pacific Northwest as the mercury dipped into the 20s Thursday. More pleasant weather extended over the rest of the nation with above normal temperatures in the East.

Education Week Is Observed

This week of October 24-30 has been American Education Week and the American Legion Auxiliary Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 has joined 50 other groups as a supporting organization for the observance of American Education Week.

During 1970 it was estimated over 30 million persons visited their schools. This year it is hoped to increase this number. Copies of the booklet, "Need a Lift," containing over 2,000 available scholarships, are available at the Hope High School Library and the Hempstead County Library.

Information about national, state or local scholarships from the American Legion Auxiliary may also be obtained from Mrs. Lucy Mae Williams or Mrs. Joe Jones, Hope Unit 12 President.

When Hypo was cornered by the dogcatcher Tuesday the nurses were furious. Hypo was taken to the animal shelter and faced a dismal future. He would have been put to sleep if not claimed by his owner within 72 hours.

When the Amarillo News and Globe-Times splashed the story on Page 1, this city of 127,000 went into an uproar.

Mayor L. Ray Vahue made a statement explaining the situation. Hospital Administrator F. S. Walters had to explain why the hospital couldn't assume ownership of Hypo.

Merrill Buckles, director of the animal shelter, issued running accounts of the latest developments.

The nurses pooled their nickels and dimes for money to buy a dog tag. But Walters explained the hospital could not take the responsibility in the event Hypo caused an injury.

As the 72-hour deadline neared, the sheriff's office, police headquarters, the newspapers and animal shelter were swamped with calls from people who wanted Hypo.

First in with a bid to adopt Hypo were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wilhite.

In Historic Vote Britain Joins Common Market

By FRED COLEMAN Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Parliament's historic vote to take Britain into the European Common Market left both major political parties split today and the outcome of the move into Europe in doubt.

With its vote Thursday night, the House of Commons accepted the principle of Common Market membership on the terms negotiated by the Conservative government, serving

Signs Point to Shakeup in China

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Intelligence analysts say there are increasing indications some of Red China's highest ranking military leaders may have been ousted in an internal power struggle.

Reports from what were described as secret sources, presumably inside mainland China, claim that Huang Yung-sheng, chief of staff of the Peoples' Liberation Army (PLA), has been purged.

The same undercover sources reported that Red Chinese Air Force commander Wu Fahsien and Navy political commissar Lee Tso Pang had been sent away for "re-education," the American analysts said.

The high-ranking trio has not been seen publicly since Sept. 10, shortly before signs of a possible upheaval in the leadership appeared.

According to recent intelligence assessments, the crisis appears still unresolved. Intelligence officials saying reports of such developments inside China are difficult to confirm, called the situation "murky as can be."

China-watchers have speculated that a power struggle was triggered by the reported illness of marshal Lin Biao, communist China's defense minister and designated successor to chairman Mao Tse Tung.

The military leadership is critically important because senior PLA officers play a dominant role in the party and government machinery throughout China.

U.S. Intelligence experts discounted the significance an official Chinese magazine carrying pictures this week of Lin Biao and the three top military figures reported ousted.

In the Communist world, the political health of party and government officials often can be measured by the mention they get—or don't get—in official publications.

But, in this instance, American specialists said, the magazine was taken off the stands in Peking last month. They attributed its appearance in Canton to a slip-up by some lower level Chinese functionaries.

notice Britain is prepared to give up some of its centuries-old independence for a role in a united Europe.

But a year-long battle remains to push the enabling legislation through Parliament, aligning British laws with the rules of the European Economic Community, before Britain can actually join on the target date of Jan. 1, 1973. All signs pointed to cliff hangers on the more controversial terms of entry.

Prime Minister Edward Heath won approval in principle for entry by a vote of 356 to 244 in the Commons with 22 abstentions. The big majority of 112 exceeded even the government's more optimistic forecasts.

But only massive help from Labor party rebels swelled the majority to that unexpected size. Heath has no guarantee that he can push through the bills that must follow on the strength of his own party alone.

The Conservatives have a majority of 25 in Commons and 39 of them voted against entry. Many of these say they will also vote against the enabling legislation, even if that means bringing the government down.

Former Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his Labor party are also committed to fighting these bills all the way. Nearly a third of the Laborites voted with the government or abstained Thursday night. But most of these defectors are now expected to return to the party line on the future votes; otherwise the party could be split irreparably.

Wilson's strategy is to delay and eventually defeat the government on this legislation, forcing a general election.

Hospital Nurses to Miss Hypo

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The nurses at Northwest Texas Hospital are going to miss old Hypo.

"He walks with me up to my door and stands there until I'm inside and have the light on," one nurse says of Hypo, the loyal honey-colored collie which the dogcatcher and police finally collared on the hospital grounds.

Hypo had been a celebrated character around the hospital for more than two years. When nurses quit work at night he escorted them to their cars. Hypo also was sort of an unofficial guard in front of the nurses' dormitories.

As the story goes—and no one can confirm it—Hypo's owner died in the hospital. Hypo stayed on.

Further, according to local folklore, his owner drove a Volkswagen which was taken away after his death. This is the reason, some say, Hypo chased cars, but only Volkswagens, then faithfully turned around and trotted back to the hospital.

When Hypo was cornered by the dogcatcher Tuesday the nurses were furious. Hypo was taken to the animal shelter and faced a dismal future. He would have been put to sleep if not claimed by his owner within 72 hours.

When the Amarillo News and Globe-Times splashed the story on Page 1, this city of 127,000 went into an uproar.

Security Is Tightened at Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — More than 40,000 South Vietnamese troops and police were mobilized today as part of a tight security network in and around Saigon for the inauguration Sunday of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Across South Vietnam, 202,000 U.S. troops went on an increased alert in anticipation of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks during the inauguration.

The alert also was intended to keep American troops away from any hostile demonstrations by anti-Thieu forces who blame the United States for his unopposed re-election.

About 1,500 South Vietnamese reinforcements were brought to the capital for the inauguration. The other forces are part of Saigon's normal defense network but have been mobilized as a citywide security force, with the majority of them in the downtown area.

Representatives of foreign governments began arriving for the inauguration ceremony. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, representing President Nixon, is due Saturday and in advance U.S. Secret Service agents made elaborate preparations.

On the battlefields, the U.S. Command reported that an American observation helicopter was shot down 21 miles northeast of Saigon, but the crew survived.

South Vietnamese troops battled about 100 Viet Cong for nine hours 42 miles northeast of the capital, and spokesmen said 16 enemy troops were killed. One South Vietnamese soldier and a hamlet chief were killed and six government troops and four civilians were wounded, field reports said.

In the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, military sources said at least 50 Cambodian soldiers were wounded in fighting along a 25-mile stretch of Highway 6 during the third day of an enemy counteroffensive in northeastern Cambodia.

The sources said the heaviest fighting was at the village of Kiri Andeth, about 54 miles northeast of Phnom Penh. The high command claimed that government troops, backed by allied warplanes, were inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

In other developments, the U.S. Command announced that another unit of the Americal Division, the 1st Battalion, 14th Artillery, had been pulled out of combat as part of Nixon's disengagement of American forces from the war. The authorized strength of the battalion is 640 men.

The Americal Division is being disbanded and its base camp at Chu Lai in the northern sector of the country is scheduled to be turned over to the South Vietnamese next month.

He said storage capacity now is 75,000 tons but in a year should be twice that. Senate Crushes First Try to Cut UN Funds

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of the U.N. custer of Nationalist China won Senate approval today of a resolution urging a reduction in U.S. financial support for the world organization.

The nonbinding amendment by Sen. James L. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., urges President Nixon to negotiate a reduction in the percentage of U.N. costs paid by the United States, from 31.5 per cent to 25 per cent.

The amendment was approved by voice vote as the Senate moved toward final passage of a $3.2-billion foreign aid bill.

A proposal to reduce U.S. payments to the United Nations by $11.5 million was soundly defeated by the Senate Thursday night.

An amendment by Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., that would require a percentage reduction in U.S. contributions to United Nations programs was still pending.

Final action on the aid bill was scheduled for tonight. The way was cleared for the vote Thursday night when the Senate discarded an antiwar amendment opposed by President Nixon.

In a long series of roll call votes lasting well into Thursday night, the Senate decided, in addition, to retain rest actions on U.S. spending in Cambodia that were written into the bill by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Earlier Thursday Henry Kissinger, the President's top foreign affairs adviser, warned that Nixon might veto the entire measure unless the Senate eliminated the Cambodia restrictions and dropped an antiwar provision drafted into the bill by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Some Nations Apologize for Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Ambassador George Bush said Thursday night the United States has received "some apologies" from other nations about the behavior of their delegates during the vote to admit Mainland China to the United Nations.

But Bush declined to name the countries which sent apologies. Bush, attending a White House dinner for President Tito of Yugoslavia, told reporters he thought the atmosphere after the U.N. vote Monday night was not as wildly exuberant as some reports indicated.

However, Bush said he thought the over-all mood of the U.N. discussion, which resulted in the expulsion of Taiwan and the seating of Mainland China, was "clearly hostile to the United States."

"Everytime I would speak, for instance, there were some hisses and boos," said Bush. The White House said Wednesday that the "shocking demonstration and undisguised glee" shown by some U.N. delegates at the defeat of the U.S. position in seating both Taiwan and Red China could have a detrimental effect on support for the world body and on foreign aid to those countries.

Earnings of Automakers Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharply higher third-quarter earnings reported this week by the "Big Three" automakers further underscored a general resurgence of corporate profits.

Ford Motor Co., the second largest producer, reported Thursday its quarterly profit rose 16 per cent to $86 million from $73.9 million in the corresponding period a year ago.

Earlier in the week, General Motors reported third quarter earnings of $217 million compared with a loss of $77 million a year earlier when a strike against the company halted output. And Chrysler Corp.'s third quarter net income jumped to $6.2 million from $2.1 million last year.

A survey of 632 nonfinancial corporations by New York's First National City Bank showed profits in the latest quarter were 8 per cent above a year earlier—the same rate of advance over 1970 as in the first half of the year.

In addition to autos, industries showing the biggest improvement, the banks said, were building materials, textiles and apparel and rubber manufacturing.

Many companies cited increased sales and reduced costs as the reasons for the upturn. Auto industry observers said profits of the carmakers in the third quarter would have been even higher if they had not been prevented from raising prices during the wage-price freeze.

In Detroit, two financial experts specializing in automotive securities agreed. They explained that the effect of frozen prices was partially offset by renegotiation of contracts with suppliers, internal belt-tightening and increased volume.

NEW YORK (AP) — Only six weeks into the new television season, the three major networks have detected their weak spots and are attempting to strengthen them.

ABC, very disappointed with "Shirley's World," has ordered production halted, considerably short of the full season of shows it ordered without a pilot and just on the strength of star Shirley MacLaine's presumed box-office magic.

ABC starts tonight a salvage effort on "The Funny Side" by broadcasting an episode as a special to follow the 90-minute program heralding the opening of the new Disney amusement park in Florida.

ABC has the greatest number of programs at the bottom of the Nielsen rating barrel, but NBC's fall schedule seems to be the one in deepest trouble. That is because ABC, with a handful of very popular programs—"Marcus Welby M.D.," "Movie of the week," Monday night football and some strong feature films, has its strongest bid even in the battle with NBC for second place in the Nielsen average.

NBC's "The Funny Side" is a pleasant, light hour attempting to get out of the ordinary TV rut, but it appears to be trapped in a programming blind alley. It comes at the end of NBC's Tuesday night schedule which is loaded with hard-hitting action-adventure tales. It also is scheduled opposite two ABC shows which are among the five most popular shows on the air—"Welby" and "Movie of the week."

"I figure 'The Funny Side' is a program almost nobody has seen," explained Mort Werner, NBC's vice president in charge of programming. "It is an interesting idea to place it in another time period where people may see and, maybe, like it enough to want to see it again."

Werner expects that the Disney special will attract a huge audience with a lot of it staying around for the next hour with "The Funny Side."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

LONG JOHNS COOL ROMANCE Dear Helen:

My wife has never adjusted to our Minnesota weather. She gets terribly cold at night in spite of an electric blanket and two thermals besides.

I can adjust - we have a king-sized bed, so I throw off what I can't take. But, alas, she recently came upon a box of my old long johns, left over from the military. She tried wearing a pair to bed and she'd never had a better night's sleep.

She's worn nothing else for a week and says, when they wear out, she'll buy some more. Frankly, my problem is that although I love her, those long johns turn me off. Is there something weird about a man who can't make love to his wife when she's wearing his army underwear? —PAUL.

Dear Paul:

I'd say there's something weird about a wife who runs around the bedroom in GI long johns. Buy her a brushed knit peignoir set and turn up the heat. ...And hide your Army boots!

—H.

Dear Helen:

If that gal who is engaged to a mama's boy is still concerned about what her marriage would be like, I can tell her: I married one!

He is 29 years old. His mother washed his hair, laid out his clothes, ran his bath water, turned down his bed at night, even pared his toenails and went on trips with him.

We've been married three years, and Mama still expects him at her house from six to nine each evening. If he ever devoted a weekend to me, I'd feel like a queen. ...just before I fainted from shock.

When Mama wants something fixed, he's there in a second, but our apartment can fall apart and he doesn't notice.

She expects gifts, and gets them, so there's nothing left when our anniversary comes around. If he misses seeing her ONE night after work, she pouts. Yes, she has a husband, but he's as put-down as I am.

Tell these wondering girls-in-love, Helen, that a sweet, lovable spoiled boy who adores his mother makes a selfish, wishy-washy husband who runs home to her.

Beware! —ABOUT TO BE SINGLE AGAIN

Dear ATBSA:

I tell 'em and tell 'em, but women in love have delayed hearing. They get the message about six months after the wedding. —H.

Dear Helen:

You said you couldn't make a judgment until you heard both sides of the "neighbor" hassle. Well, here's an answer to those elders who think their young neighbors are the world's worst.

Dear People Next Door: Your aren't exactly perfect. Your kids who are old enough to know better, hit golf balls at our car, throw mud on our house, and knock down our fence. Their noisy motorbikes ruin our sleep. Your dear husband gets drunk and shoots B-B's at our dog. Also he leers at me when I wear shorts.

As for you, my dear, you don't know I'm aware that you let your dog out early every morning to use our yard. And how about the way you peek from behind your curtains, then gossip about everyone on the block. Because I won't listen you've started a campaign against me. Listen, you don't own the world, just because you're over 30! —UNDER 30

Dear Under:

You two families live 1,000 miles apart, but thanks for filling the equal time slot, anyway. —H

Even Though Partially Sighted Woman Trying to Live Normal Life

By DALA MCKINSEY Associated Press Writer LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Even though partially sighted, Alice Tillman, 22, is attempting to live her life as normally as possible.

A graduate of Arkansas State University in Jonesboro, Miss Tillman attempted to get a job teaching in a public school system, but was turned down.

Now she is teaching and acting as a librarian at Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind here.

Miss Tillman followed the advice of her instructor at ASU and did her student teaching at the Arkansas Blind School here.

"I had a teacher who believed I could not be successful in the public school," she said. However, Miss Tillman says while she is not bitter about her situation, she feels she would have had more of a chance to teach in a public school if she had done her student teaching in a public school system.

She said that the public needs to be informed that blind or partially sighted persons are capable of "doing and achieving."

"The main thing is that blind people can be capable of doing and achieving," she said, "and many others have achieved a great deal more than I have."

She said she would suggest that young blind people "do as best they can scholastically and achieve independence in college."

She said when they look for employment after college, "I know they will have disappointments... they just have to keep trying and putting in (job) applications."

She said her partial vision is caused by scar tissue on the retina.

It was discovered by her mother when she was 8 years old. Miss Tillman said her mother noticed she was holding a text book too closely. She said she did not even notice it herself.

"It is hard for a child to realize what you are supposed to see," she said.

She said her teachers thought she was "lazy" because she stopped doing her school work during that period.

Because there is no way to detect the problem by looking at her, she said she had gone to several doctors before her problem was discovered.

She cannot read handwriting, and reads large print with the aid of special glasses. Sometimes she cannot see people unless they are moving.

However, she has been showing Tennessee Walking horses for three years and has been quite successful.

She said her only difficulty was in keeping her horse in stride.

"Other people can make you break your gate," she said, explaining that other riders sometimes cut in front of her horse, causing it to lose its stride.

She said she shows the horses "partly by sight and partly by sound."

For practicing, her father, John Tillman, has built an arena at the Tillman ranch near Paragould. Before the ring was built, Miss Tillman said she used to ride in the front yard, but that was difficult because of the trees.

She has successfully ridden her horses in shows without most people detecting that she cannot see.

She recounts one time when the judge kept using arm motions to tell her to come to the center of the ring to accept first place.

"I just kept riding around the arena, until somebody yelled at me," she said.

In a few weeks, she is planning on riding in a show sponsored by the Lions Club in Jonesboro. She said she wants to ride in that show because the "Lions have done so much for the blind in Arkansas."

Miss Tillman said she intends to return to school and get her master's degree, but she is not sure in what area—maybe in rehabilitation she says.

A&M Comes Into Game With Victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Texas A&M quit playing Santa Claus last week.

Until a 10-9 victory over Baylor, the Aggies had been giving away loads of gifts each Saturday.

"Mistakes and turnovers hurt them early," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "They made some offensive changes and didn't beat themselves last week."

The Aggies meet eighth-ranked Arkansas Saturday night at Little Rock.

Broyles says the Aggies have all but abandoned the split backfield in favor of the I-formation. "That gives Doug Neill some real running room and he's a good quick runner," Broyles said. "Their offense looks much better now."

Broyles says the injection of senior quarterback Joe Mac King into the Aggies' lineup has had a steadying effect. Last week, the Aggies had only one turnover.

Stallings said the Aggies had 20 fumbles and 14 passes intercepted in their first seven games.

The Aggies opened the season with an easy victory over Wichita State and then lost five in a row while scoring a total of 17 points.

"Their defense is not the reason they lost some games," Broyles said. "Their offense just gave away too much."

Among A&M's losses was a 34-7 decision at the hands of top-ranked Nebraska.

"It took Nebraska a long time to move the ball," Broyles said. "They got three breaks to get touchdowns. (Bob) Devaney's comment was that they got hit the hardest they had been hit in 10 years."

"We know that their defense has continuously improved and played good football all year," Broyles said. "They come at you hard and aggressive."

A&M's defense figures to have its hands full with Arkansas' offense, which is averaging 47.1 yards a game, second best in the nation.

"Arkansas presents as many problems to defense as any team in the country," Stallings says.

No. 1 is quarterback Joe Ferguson, a strong-armed junior who is leading the Southwest Conference in total offense and passing. Ferguson has completed 94 of 155 passes for 1,331 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Stopping Ferguson is not enough. Sophomore tailback Dicky Morton has taken over the conference lead in rushing since replacing injured Jon Richardson in the third game of the season. Morton is averaging 7.2 yards a carry. And, Richardson is expected to return to action this week.

"Richardson is approaching playing condition," Broyles said. "He's looked better each day and will be close to full recovery by Saturday."

Broyles will start Morton against the Aggies and then "play it by ear."

The Razorbacks are 3-0 in the SWC and, with Texas behind them, are the favorite for the conference title. A&M is the first of four straight conference opponents for Arkansas.

Idle Dice Is Winner of Ike Trophy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rodney Jenkins of Orange, Va., astride Idle Dice, won the Eisenhower Memorial Trophy Thursday night at the Washington International Horse Show.

Jenkins steered his mount around the course in 40.7 seconds to beat out Carol Hoffmann, who rode Salem in 41.7.

Third was Canada's Barbara Simpson, astride Magnor, while Ian Miller of Canada, riding War Machine, was fourth.

Miss Hoffmann, of Elmont, N.Y., piloted Pushover into fifth place. Jenkins finished sixth on Brendan. Joe Fargus of Vienna, Va., was seventh on Boote II, and Eleanor MacCo-

Arkansas Is Picked Over the Aggies

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Texas A&M has had trouble making the scoreboard blink the past six weeks. Don't expect a big change this week.

The Aggies play eighth-ranked Arkansas Saturday night at Little Rock.

A&M managed a total of 17 points while losing five in a row and then exploded last week for a 10-9 victory over Baylor.

The Razorbacks' defense ranks first in the Southwest Conference against scoring, allowing 14.4 points a game, and leads the league in total defense, allowing an average of 256.7 yards a game.

In addition, Arkansas has averaged 39.6 points a game while running up a 6-1 record.

"Arkansas presents as many problems to defense as any team in the country," said A&M Coach Gene Stallings. "They have great people at the skill positions—quarterback Joe Ferguson, wide receiver Mike Reppond and running back Dicky Morton."

Ferguson leads the conference in total offense with 198 yards a game and in passing with 94 of 155 for 1,331 yards.

Reppond is the top receiver in the conference with 33 catches for 621 yards. Morton, who did not start last week in a 60-21 romp over North Texas State, gained 146 yards on 13 carries and took over the conference lead in rushing.

The Aggies have beaten Frank Broyles-coached Arkansas teams once in the past 13 years. There's no reason to think this will be No. 2.

ARKANSAS 38, TEXAS A&M 10.

Southern State and Arkansas Tech, both 3-0 in the AIC, meet Saturday night at Magnolia.

If comparative scores mean anything, both teams beat State College of Arkansas by 21 points but Tech clobbered Henderson 35-14 while the Muleriders edged Henderson 20-14.

Tech's experience should be the difference.

TECH 21, SOUTHERN STATE 14.

Last week's record was a perfect 6-0, raising the season's percentage to .826. Here are other predictions involving Arkansas college teams:

Ouachita 20, State College of Arkansas 15.

UA-Monticello 13, Mississippi College 7.

Arkansas AM&N 17, Harding College 7.

Title Hopes Gone But Bobcats Still Want a Victory

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Hope's Bobcats may be out of the conference race, but the Cats have two games left and you must admit that a 7-3 seasonal record is much better than any 5-5.

After a bad Wednesday afternoon practice, Hope went out in shorts yesterday, running through the offense and defense and brushing up on the kicking phases of the game. Overall, the Thursday practice was spirited and the Cats seem ready to win.

Most people remember last year's game in Hammons Stadium when Camden scored in the last four seconds to scratch out a 14-13 victory in conference play. That bitter taste is still with the Cats, and tonight they hope to get rid of it.

Although Camden is only about average in weight, they have eleven hungry football players on defense that like to play, and all season long it has been tough to run consistently on them. Also, the Panther offensive attack is very powerful with both a run and pass combination that won't be easily stopped. The team of Canada was eight on Hombre.

Jenkins' victory was the first for the United States in the show.

Only two Argentinian horses were entered—Guante Blanco, ridden by Argentinian Molinero, and Rio Bambu, ridden by Jorge Ilambé—and both were withdrawn during the first of the two rounds.

Logically, owned by Mrs. John Lushman and Mrs. Robert Fisher of Greenwich, Conn., won the regular conformation hunter class.

Razorbacks Finish for Aggie Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks finished preparing for their game this week with Texas A&M with a 90-minute workout in sweat clothes here Thursday.

"It has been a serious week," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "The players have been serious and determined in practice, there hasn't been any foolishness, but it hasn't been our best week of work."

Broyles said junior tailback Jon Richardson would see action Saturday, but would not start. Richardson has been recovering from a broken leg.

Captains for the A&M game are defensive end Ronnie Jones, offensive end Tom Mabry, defensive back Jack Morris and tight end Bobby Nichols.

Parkview Is Winner Over Catholic High

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Quarterback Mark Trimble passed for three touchdowns to lead Little Rock Parkview to a 21-17 upset over Little Rock Catholic here Thursday night.

Catholic is ranked third in The Associated Press high school football poll and Parkview is ranked No. 7.

All of Trimble's passes came in the first half. He connected on a 20-yarder to flanker Dan Evans, a 51-yard bomb to split end Aaron Cook and had a six-yard toss to split end Blake Trantham.

Nebraska Could Have Hands Full

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska and Oklahoma, both undefeated, ranked No. 1 and 2 in college football and both heading for a Thanksgiving Day showdown, are watchful their opponents between now and then don't spoil the contest which could decide the national championship.

Nebraska, 1970's national top team, plays Colorado Saturday in a nationally televised (ABC-TV) game. The Cornhuskers' 7-0 record is impressive but if it were not for a 45-17 loss to Oklahoma, the Buffaloes would have the same mark.

Jerry Tagge heads the Nebraska offense which leads the Big Eight in total offense while the defense has given up just 5.7 points per game. Flanker Johnny Rodgers has scored 11 touchdowns for the Huskers and averaged 16 yards on every reception.

Colorado, ranked ninth, has two top signal callers in sophomores Ken Johnson and Joe Duenas. Johnson is a top passer while Duenas is a running and option threat. Kickoff time is 1:50 p.m., EDT.

Oklahoma's offense grinds out yardage by the hundreds from the Wishbone-T as run by quarterback Jack Mildren, with backs Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie. The Sooners, 6-0, face Iowa State, which also boasts a very respectable 5-1 mark for the season. The Cyclones appear to have the best chance of stopping the championship festivities on Thanksgiving by dumping Oklahoma.

Pruitt has rushed for a 12.1 average in the six games and a 185.5 yards per game average. He gained 294 yards last week against Kansas State breaking Gayle Sayers' Big Eight record. Oklahoma also claimed an NCAA record with 711 yards rushing in its 75-28 victory.

OU Coach Chuck Fairbanks expects the Cyclones to stay mainly on the ground but says he respects their passing ability. There is no change expected in the Sooners' attack—it's all overland.

Gorman Now Favorite in Tennis Meet

WEMBLEY, England (AP) — Seattle's Tom Gorman, who entered as an unseeded underdog, is a strong favorite and the last surviving American in the $50,000 Embassy Tennis tournament.

Gorman, who ousted Fred McMillan of South Africa 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 Thursday, joined Bob Hewitt of South Africa, Australia's Rod Laver and cocky Ilie Nastase of Romania in semifinals matches Friday.

Hewitt eliminated Ray Ruffels of Australia 6-4, 6-2, Laver overcame a shaky start to defeat Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 and Nastase upset No. 1 seed John Newcombe of Australia 9-7, 6-2.

Gorman fell behind in the first set but rebroke immediately after dropping service in the third game of the second set. His strong net play dominated action in the third set.

Nastase, who argued with linesmen and berated fans throughout, announced, "I'm too good for these guys."

He opened his match with Newcombe after a service break and systematically wore down his opponent. Newcombe double faulted to drop the first game of the second set and quickly trailed 5-1.

Bobkittens Take Over Dist. Title in Fairview Win

By ALAN FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

The last few seconds were ticking away and when it was all over the pleased looks on the faces of Coach Honea and Coach Allen told the story. Hope's Junior Bobkittens had shut out Fairview 21-0 in a most crucial game.

The first quarter was a mere punting battle as neither team could move the ball.

But on the first play of the second period, Willard Willmon gained 43 yards on a pass play from James Robinson to the Cardinal 25 yard line only to be stopped on a fumble on the next play at the 17 of the Cardinals.

With 2:49 left in the second quarter Willard Willmon picked off a Cardinal pass at the 44. The Kittens then drove to the Cardinal 32 where on a 3rd and nine situation, Robinson connected with Willmon on a 32 yard TD aerial. Martindale's PAT was good and Hope led 7-0.

In the waning moments of the third quarter the offense of the Kittens had driven down to the Cardinal 20 yard line but were forced to give up the ball on downs there. And the 3rd quarter ended with Hope on top by a slim 7-0 score.

The fourth quarter's opening play brought fans to their feet as Larry Johnson got two steps on the defender and there was no catching up. It was a 60 yard touchdown run which put the Kittens ahead 13-0. Martindale's PAT floated through the uprights and Hope led 14-0.

James Robinson halted a Fairview drive when he picked off a pass at the Hope 41. Two plays later he connected with Mike Hobson, who gave a beautiful effort and carried the ball to the Cardinal 9 yard line. Four plays later on a 4th and goal from the 1 yard line James Robinson cracked over to put the contest on ice.

Hope's kicker, Jimmy Williams also raised some eyebrows as on three of his four kicks he put in the Cardinal end zone.

Defensive standouts were impossible to make over as all the defensive men again played a

Reed Claims He Is Not Discouraged

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm not discouraged yet," said Willis Reed, "but I sometimes get to the point where I wonder if it's worth it."

The New York Knicks' star center appeared to be considering a premature retirement from basketball Thursday night.

Bothered by an increasingly painful right knee, he has contributed much less than 100 per cent this year to the Knicks' getaway in the National Basketball Association.

And Thursday night was no exception as the Bullish Reed played 30 minutes but scored only three points and had six rebounds as New York defeated the Houston Rockets 112-94.

After the victory, the Knicks' dressing room had the thick atmosphere of a funeral wake. Reed's injury was apparently in some thoughts and it was Dave DeBusschere who spoke them: "With Willis at 100 per cent, we're a great team," said DeBusschere, who scored 26 points against the punchless Rockets. "But without him, we're nothing."

Reed will be further examined today for what the Knicks describe as tendonitis—in simple terms, an inflamed knee.

In the night's other NBA game, at Seattle, the SuperSonics whipped Buffalo 106-96. Reed's knee troubles came to a head last year when the club decided to perform surgery during the off-season. His convalescing over the winter produced false hopes, he said.

"For a while things looked like they were working out," said Reed, "but I guess the knee was not ready for this much activity."

Barry Clemens, with 26 points, and Spencer Haywood with 25 helped the SuperSonics celebrate coach Lenny Wilkens' 44th birthday with a third straight victory. The Sonics opened a 16-point lead in the third period, enough to hold off a late Buffalo rally.

Bob Kauffman of the Braves threw in 27 points to be high for the game.

Kansas City Picked Over the Raiders

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland Raiders are expected to play before a record home crowd when they meet Kansas City Sunday. But the fans won't be able to help defend against Otis Taylor.

With Taylor catching and Len Dawson throwing, the Chiefs will win the big game of a weekend of key games.

Los Angeles, Baltimore, Washington and Chicago will join the Chiefs as winners, it says from this corner, where the score last week was 8-5-1 for a total of 34-17-1.

Kansas City 20, Oakland 17—Helping Taylor and Dawson give the Chiefs the edge will be a rushing defense that has allowed less than 100 yards in each of the last five games.

Los Angeles 24, Miami 17—The Rams have a good offensive-defensive balance and that should give them the edge in this battle of two top rushing teams.

Baltimore 17, Pittsburgh 16—Baltimore is in good health for what should be a very physical game and has the experience edge. The Steelers make youthful mistakes and have not won on the road in three tries this season.

Washington 31, New Orleans 10—The Redskins, who suffered their first loss last week, won't have receiver Charlie Taylor but they have enough offense and too much defense for New Orleans which probably won't have rookie quarterback Archie Manning.

Chicago 20, Dallas 17—The Bears, weak on paper, are starting to believe they are strong on the field and will add the Cowboys to their list of surprises. Dallas plans to alternate quarterbacks Roger Staubach and Craig Morton on every offensive play.

Cleveland 27, Atlanta 17—The Browns will be out to make up for embarrassing shutout by Denver last week. Dick Shiner, who stepped in for injured quarterback Bob Berry, and helped beat New Orleans, will find the Browns much tougher.

Minnesota 34, New York Giants 7—The Vikings get the points when they're needed and have given up only 49 in six games. The Giants lost to Philadelphia.

Houston 21, Cincinnati 10—The Oilers are hungry for their first victory and should get it at home against a team that might have to go with a third-string quarterback, Dave Lewis.

St. Louis 38, Buffalo 10—After Washington and San Francisco, Buffalo will be a welcome change for the Cardinals.

San Francisco 45, New England 10—New England rookie quarterback Jim Plunkett won't find the Bay Area nearly as nice as it was when he was an All-American at Stanford.

Denver 24, Philadelphia 7—If Philadelphia is up after beating Giants for first victory, Denver should be soaring after shutout of Cleveland for second straight triumph.

San Diego 17, New York Jets 14—Chargers are more solid at quarterback with John Hadl and they're home.

Detroit 27, Green Bay 10—The Lions have the legs—the running legs of Steve Owens and Althe Taylor and the kicking leg of Errol Mann—to keep from getting up two straight weeks in this Monday night game.

Dickson Is Leader at Las Vegas

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "I knew we were going to be in trouble when I looked out the hotel window in the morning and saw the white-capped waves in the swimming pool," Richard Crawford said.

"Cold? All the jackrabbits and roadrunners are heading north to get warm," said Gardner Dickinson.

"I'm so cold my hair hurts," said Lee Trevino.

The comments were typical Thursday as golf's touring pros battled through the most severe weather conditions on the tour this season in the first round of the $135,000 Sahara Invitational.

Lanky Bob Dickson, a former American and British amateur champion seeking his first pro title since 1968, emerged the leader with a brilliant, four-under-par 68 on the 7,143-yard Paradise Valley Country Club course.

"I guess I've got to say I like the weather," Dickson grinned. "It's got to be the best round I've played in a long, long time."

Trevino, emerging from a slump that has plagued him since his sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open titles three months ago, took second alone with a 69.

"I think I'm ready to go again," said Trevino, heavily bundled in several layers of clothing and a green ski cap.

Bob Goalby and Dale Douglass had 70s in the frigid weather with six players locked at 71, the only others in the field of 144 able to break par 72. They are Don January, Jim Jamieson, Deane Beman, Bert Yancey, Paul Moran and Fred Marti, who finished second in last week's Kaiser International.

Arnold Palmer, co-favorite with Trevino for the $27,000 first prize, had two three-putt bogies en route to a 74 that put him well back in the field.

The high temperature was 47 and it was considerably cooler most of the day. A blustery wind that gusted to 35 miles per hour made the chill factor even more severe. There were even a few bursts of spitting rain, mixed with a few snow flakes.

The players went out in layers of sweaters and rain gear. Many of them wore woolen caps and some donned woolen gloves between shots. At least one went out with a hip flask.

The weather contributed to some of the highest scores of the season. Fourteen players were at 80 or over. Defending champion Babe Hickey had a 79. Frank Beard, usually one of the most consistent players on the tour, had a 78. Chi Chi Rodriguez had to play on the back nine in 34 to salvage a 76.

And Bob Dameron, one of the first off the tee in the biting morning cold took a horrendous 92.

Florida St., Houston Lead Statistics

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — A team defense spearheaded by Floridians centers Ira Harge and Craig Raymond shut off the Carolina Cougars in the second half and fashioned a 104-91 victory Thursday.

It was the only game played in the American Basketball Association.

Harge and Raymond did a job on 7-foot Cougar center Jim McDaniels, holding the heralded rookie to one field goal in 14 second-half attempts.

As a team, the Cougars were 12 of 52 from the floor in the second half.

McDaniels still had 24 points for the game to be Carolina's top scorer.

The Floridians rallied from what had been a nine point deficit midway in the third period to a 91-80 advantage five minutes into the fourth quarter. They outscored the Cougars 21-8 in a 4½ minute span to take the commanding lead, which grew to 16 points late in the game.

Larry Jones was the Floridians' leading scorer with 30, including the first six of the final period. He scored the tying and lead-off points on free throws. Mack Calvin had 20 points and Warren Armstrong 17 in support of Jones.

Golden Seals Get Meloche in a Trade

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Last season Chicago summoned unknown goalie Gilles Meloche from Flint of the International Hockey League, and the rookie's superb goaltending helped the Black Hawks thump California 5-2.

The Golden Seals received Meloche in a trade last week and Thursday night he turned back 34 shots as California scrambled to a 2-0 National Hockey League triumph over the power-laden Boston Bruins.

"As long as I stop the first shot, it's all clear," Meloche said after making his first start of the season a winning one. "But I just do my best. I get the stick up, then get ready. I also try to stop a lot of shots in my pads to prevent rebounds."

Goals by Norm Ferguson and Dick Redmond supported Meloche's performance and handed the Bruins their first shutout loss since St. Louis turned the trick with an identical score last Nov. 5.

While the Seals recorded their second victory in nine starts, the rampaging Minnesota North Stars charged to their sixth consecutive triumph as veteran goaltender Cesare Maniago weathered a 35-shot barrage as the North Stars blanked the Pittsburgh Penguins 2-0. In the night's other NHL contest, the Philadelphia Flyers edged the Vancouver Canucks 3-2.

Maniago, supported by goals by Bill Goldsworthy and J.P. Parise, registered his second shutout of the season and 13th of his career.

Simon Nole's first goal gave the Flyers a 2-0 advantage late in the second frame, but the Canucks surged back to tie the action with a pair of quick goals in the second period. Nole then stole the puck and slapped a 20-footer in for the winning counter at 10:15 of the final period.

Big Game in Pro Is Chiefs and Raiders

By TOM EMORY

Associated Press Sports Writer

On a mild September Sunday Kansas City and Oakland each opened their National Football League seasons against what were considered easy opponents. That Sunday provided some major upsets in pro football including losses by both the Chiefs and the Raiders.

Six weeks later that single blemish mars their otherwise perfect records. Both are 5-1 and hold a share of the lead in the American Conference West Division. After the seventh Sunday in the NFL schedule, one team gives up its share, and no one is counting on a tie.

Other Sunday contests have Atlanta at Cleveland, Cincinnati at Houston, Dallas at Chicago, Denver at Philadelphia, Miami at Los Angeles, Minnesota at the New York Giants, New England at San Francisco, New Orleans at Washington, the New York Jets at San Diego, Pittsburgh at Baltimore and St. Louis at Buffalo.

Detroit plays Green Bay in Monday night's nationally-televised game at 9 p.m., EST, on ABC-TV.

Kansas City was surprised by San Diego 21-14 on the fateful first day of 1971 pro action while New England and Jim Plunkett were knocking off Oakland 20-6. The Chiefs and Raiders have been riding the

Montana State

Reprimanded

by NCAA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Montana State University has been reprimanded and censured for violating financial aid to athletics rules.

The action was taken Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Walter S. Brown of the

NCAA's Committee on Infractions said that in September 1970 Montana State University's head football coach "presented a $10 cash award to an athlete for his outstanding performance" in the school's football game on Sept. 26, 1970.

Brown also said financial aid awarded to an athlete "was granted in the amount of room and board for approximately five weeks during the spring semester of the 1969-70 academic year."

The school cooperated fully

during the NCAA investigation,

Brown said.

Florida's

Defense the

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Who's

who on the NCAA statistics list could be an appropriate tag for Saturday's intersectional battle in the Astrodome between the University of Houston and Florida State.

The Seminoles, who bounced back last week with an impressive victory, 48-18, over South

Carolina, have a 6-1 record, losing only to arch-rival Florida,

17-15.

A prolific receiving corps is what's made Florida State click.

Quarterback Gary Huff leads the nation in completions at 126, touchdown passes at 15 and yards passing at 1,743. His leading receiver is Rhett Dawson, who ranks among the top three in the nation with 47 receptions for 608 yards and six touchdowns.

Houston, a 34-20 loser to fourth ranked Alabama last week, contributes fullback Robert Newhouse to the statistical parade. Newhouse has gained more than 100 yards rushing in nine of the last 10 games. The other was for 99 yards.

The rugged senior is fourth among the nation's rushers with 904 yards on 132 attempts. Newhouse hasn't been slowed by quality of competition. In Houston's two losses, Newhouse gained 100 yards against Arizona State and 182 last week against Alabama.

Although not ranked at the national level, Houston quarterback Gary Mullins has added a growing list of school records to his accomplishments. He's within three touchdown passes of breaking the school record of 35.

The Seminoles will present a completely different approach from last week's opponent. Alabama showed the Cougars how the wishbone-T should operate, but Florida State is a passoriented offense.

Larry Jones has succeeded

Bill Peterson as head coach of the Seminoles, but the name of the game has remained—pass.

"It'll be quite a change for us,"

said Houston's defensive coordinator, Melvin Robertson. "You couldn't find two teams that have more different styles than these two."

Huff has made an impression on the Cougar staff.

"They haven't had a better

one," head coach Bill Yeoman said of Huff. "I saw him against

Mississippi State and he had an off night but he still ruined

them."

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Can Iron Cause Signs of Disease?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb: What are the symptoms of too much iron in one's system? Could this cause almost daily sick headaches? When I eat any prepared food or take vitamins that say "added iron" I feel really ill.

I am 66 years old, otherwise healthy with normal blood pressure. I'm very active taking care of a large yard and do all the mowing, planting, etc. I eat meat, chicken or fish once a day and lots of fruit and vegetables. My bodily functions couldn't work more perfectly. These constant headaches are laying me low.

Dear Reader—There is no information to suggest that taking too much iron would cause headaches without causing a lot of other problems you don't seem to have. Headaches are a symptom that can be caused by allergies, nervous tension, numerous illnesses and a list of things so long it would fill this column. You would need a complete examination to really find out what the problem is.

On the subject of iron, a person eating a balanced diet should be getting sufficient iron without replacement unless he is losing blood. There are dangers from taking too much iron. Dr. William Crosby of Tufts New England Medical Center in Boston has come out against a proposal being considered by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to add iron to foods. He thinks this would endanger the nation's health.

Dr. Crosby points out that there are about 20,000 Americans who have a disease that causes excess storage of iron in the body and at least 50,000 other people with liver disease, plus blacks and individuals of Mediterranean ethnic background with certain types of anemia who cannot tolerate increased amounts of iron in their diet. The truth is we have very little information on the effects of excessive ingestion of iron over long periods of time in even normal people.

I agree with Dr. Crosby and feel that there is some real danger in adding too many things to natural foods. The business of adding things to natural products or making artificial products has gotten so complex that it is almost impossible to guess what you are eating.

People who absorb too much iron or patients who get lots of blood transfusions can gradually develop iron deposits in the liver. The liver may be damaged causing abnormal metabolism with a high blood sugar, such as diabetes. The skin can become bronze in color, hence the term "bronze diabetes." One treatment for this problem is repeated blood-letting of the patient, if the patient's illness will permit this.

There is an optional amount of almost everything and this includes iron.

We aren't going to comment on the bidding of today's hand, except to say that three no-trump is a sound contract.

South started out by winning the spade with his ace. A useless face card since it could not fool East who was the dangerous defender.

Then South studied awhile and decided to go right after clubs. If he could score three club tricks he would be sure of his contract.

East did some thinking while South was studying the hand and decided to win the first club with the ace instead of the queen. He would look mighty silly if declarer plucked his queen of clubs later on, but he did not expect that to happen. He feared that if he won the first trick with the queen, South might give up clubs entirely and go after his nine tricks in the other suits.

East was right on all counts. If he had saved his ace of clubs the chances are that South would have tried out the diamonds and would have made five diamonds, two hearts and two spades. As it was South led a second club; played the 10 from dummy to repeat the finesse and wound up three tricks down when East took his queen and five spade tricks.

A—Pass. Your partner may have been thinking of a slam but he has changed his mind and told you he can play hearts opposite a doubleton.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four hearts, your partner has jumped to five diamonds after your three spades. What do you do now?

TRAFFIC JAMS to end all traffic jams, at least in Paris, ties up the Champs Elysees, above, when a subway strike left the city's rush-hour travelers to their own devices. If bumper-to-bumper auto traffic was no solution, neither, apparently, was the motorbike, below. A parking jam developed at the Saint Lazare railway station when Parisians biking into work also ran out of space.

Mark Donohue Admits He Is Spread Thin

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Mark Donohue, at the peak of his career as a race driver, admitted today he'll spread himself as thin next year as the oil in an Offenhauser engine going 185 at Indianapolis.

"I'll probably spend more time in a jet plane going from one race to another than I'll spend at home."

"But I have a lot to do; there are some new things I want to try," said the 33-year-old Brown University engineering graduate.

Coming off a brilliant 1971 season, in which he won one driving title and placed eighth in another, not to mention collecting more than $250,000 in prize money, what will he do for an encore?

"Go for the championships I missed and break some new ground in other areas," the baby-faced, 190-pounder said.

"Things are happening in auto racing and I want to be a part of as many as I can."

His 1972 schedule isn't firm yet, but this much is sure: — He'll drive an American Motors sedan in five or six big races on the NASCAR Grand National circuit, his first venture in the rich stock car series that features the super-speed, high-banked ovals.

The car, an Ambassador Matador, is currently under construction at the Holman and Moody shops at Charlotte. Donohue's mentor, ex-racer Roger Penske, finalized the deal with AMC a month ago.

—He'll drive a factory-backed German Porsche in most of the 12 races in the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series for unlimited sports-racing cars. This, too, will be "new ground" of sorts for the two-time U.S. road racing champ.

—He'll go for the USAC championship title for Indianapolis-type cars won this year by Californian Joe Leonard.

The series, including three 500-mile events, has been increased to 18 races for 1972. Among them are five road course affairs that are made to order for Donohue's talents.

—He'll take a note from Mario Andretti's book and compete in as many Formula 1 Grand Prix races as time will allow, probably about five and including the U.S. and Canadian stops on the tour.

Penske and Donohue will quit the Trans-Am series for small sports sedans. Donohue won the title this year in an AMC Javelin, notching seven victories in 10 starts.

In championship racing, his first full season in the lowslung, open-cockpit machines, he won the 500-mile at Pocono, Pa., and led both Indianapolis and Ontario before succumbing to mechanical woes.

The National Report on What's Happening

By ERNESTINE GUGLIELMO

RECYCLING ENERGY—"Where we have previously had the best people we can find in the United States working on ways to destroy lives, we now have people devoting efforts to saying life rather than destroying life," said President Nixon.

Charley Pride

He was referring to the Army's former top-secret germ warfare laboratories in Fort Detrick, Md., where research centered around ways of destroying entire nations. Now the President has rededicated the laboratories as a national research center for cancer.

Before Nixon's 1969 decision to halt germ research, the scientists concentrated their efforts on lethal diseases and weapons-delivery systems for the diseases. Now the seven buildings and equipment, estimated at $135 million value, will be used to fight disease.

THE PRIDE OF COUNTRY MUSIC — Charley Pride now holds three of the most impressive titles in the country music field. The Country Music Association awarded him Artist of the Year and Best Male Country Vocalist of the Year. The Music Operators of America also awarded him the Entertainer of the Year Award. Charley Pride is the first black artist to become a superstar in the country music field.

POLICE POTTED POT PLANT—A large plant found near Kent State University's health center wasn't exactly herbal health food. It was an eight-foot marijuana plant that the University policemen found growing wild on campus. So the police took the plant and potted it for their own use. That is, to teach the campus officers to recognize the plant.

SILENT NO MORE—Tapes smuggled out of U.S.S.R. provide the first freedom songs of dissenting Soviet Jews to be released for Western audiences. The American Jewish Congress paid the cost of manufacturing the record, which is called "Silent No More," in response to Elie Wiesel's book based on his visit to the Soviet Union in 1965 called "Jews of Silence."

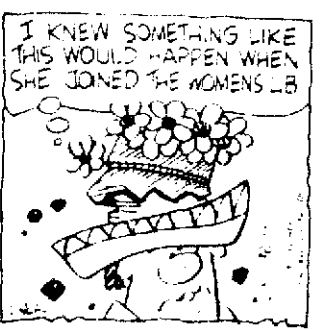

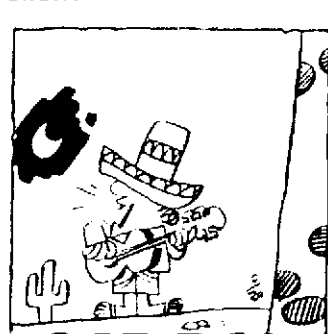

The songs were recorded by a visiting American scientist, pseudonym Ben Tzion, who secretly met with Soviet Jews. Tzion said the underground songs revealed Soviet Jews' "deep and abiding love of Israel."

"Silent No More" features Theodore Bikel and the songs are in Russian, Hebrew and Yiddish. But fear not, for those interested in the political implications of these songs, an accompanying booklet contains translations and transcriptions. Profits from the album will go to a scholarship fund for Soviet Jews at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

TO walk BY FAITH

Often we have seen a blind person walking down a street. His whole life is based upon faith in what he cannot see. Of necessity, he seems to be truly following Paul's admonition to walk by faith and not by sight (II Cor. 5:7).

But Paul wasn't talking about the physically blind at all. He was referring to the spiritually blind, to those who can only believe in what they actually see. Unfortunately such people don't realize that what they are seeing will not last forever. Only the unseen God will last. And the unseen God is the heart of Paul's statement.

Don't center your faith around temporary things which you can see; center it around the lasting God whom you cannot see, knowing as Paul knew, that one day you will see Him.

Don't be spiritually blindfolded by the sights of the world.
Remove the blindfold. Develop true vision.
Have faith in God.

Countdown Continues for Blast

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — As the countdown continued for the underground detonation of a five-megaton nuclear warhead on an Alaskan island, the Justice Department said today it will not appeal one court's ruling that a U.S. district court judge should be allowed a look at reports conservationists say prove the blast is unsafe.

A Justice Department spokesman said the government will not challenge a U.S. Court of Appeals decision Thursday putting the disputed reports into the hands of U.S. District Judge George L. Hart.

He said the material will be cleared of any information affecting national security and turned over to the judge probably later today. That means Hart's courtroom will probably become the arena for a fresh challenge by seven groups of environmentalists on whether the blast should go off at all.

President Nixon authorized the explosion earlier this week in telling the Atomic Energy Commission to go ahead.

Seven conservation groups are seeking to halt the blast, claiming it might cause earthquakes, damage wildlife or allow radioactive materials to leak into the air.

They say the government suppressed official reports proving their contention of potential environmental damage. The government argued that Nixon had a right to keep certain information secret under the legal doctrine known as executive privilege.

Using 'Moral Suasion' to Settle Issues

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the 45th time this year, the gray-haired man on the telephone was outraged. In this instance an old couple had been cheated and the company responsible was hiding behind a technicality.

"All right," the company official said finally, "we'll pay them back $1,000."

"It's a matter of $1,017," insisted the gray-haired man.

"You'd hold us up for $17?" "Damn right."

The old couple collected, thanks to Jack Yohe, director of the Civil Aeronautics Board's Office of Consumer Affairs, and his staff of six analysts, four typists, two clerks.

Lacking any statutory power to adjudicate claims or award damages, the office has used what Yohe terms "moral suasion" to win refunds and penalty payments totaling almost $100,000 for consumers in the last six months.

Moral suasion in many cases translates into discreet arm twisting.

Organized by cab Chairman Secor D. Browne Jr. last December as the first regulatory consumer affairs office in the federal bureaucracy, the Yohe staff works closely with the agency's Bureau of Enforcement.

"If we see a trend in the way a carrier or travel agency is handling problems, such as oversales or baggage losses, we send our studies to the Bureau of Enforcement and they take the file and begin a field investigation," Yohe said in an interview.

For example, Yohe's office received hundreds of complaints from consumers who had been bumped off flights although they had been told their reservations were confirmed.

CAB regulations require that airlines furnish passengers with written statements explaining that they are entitled to compensation up to $200 if they are bumped off flights and are not given alternate airline transportation to their destination within two hours of their original departure.

Yohe's office sent the complaints to the Bureau of Enforcement which found that only two airlines were providing consumers with properly written statements.

The airlines were ordered to comply immediately with the regulations, and Yohe said all of them are now doing so.

Addresses Local Club

NORRIS STEELE

At Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting Rev. Norris Steele, Pastor of First United Methodist Church, was the guest speaker on a program arranged by Kiwanian Bill Mudgett.

Rev. Steele stated his concern and what should be the concern of all of us for the young people of today in a talk he titled "When It Comes to Youth, You Can't Hire a Baby Sitter."

The drug abuse problem about which we are hearing much is only one of the problems for which solutions are being sought, but sometimes our solutions are "cop outs."

A new Youth Center is desirable and its programs are fine, but it won't solve the problem. Only a limited number of young people participate in its programs.

An excellent Municipal Recreational Program is fine and is a deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

Civic Club youth programs attempt to reach our young people and have a place in meeting their needs.

Our schools do a good job in training our youth and the various churches with their young people's programs do an excellent job.

However, in spite of all the helpful programs, juvenile delinquency is on the increase.

Why do we have a growing problem?

We are depending on programs to take care of the problem rather than getting to the basic cause.

No one can take the place of parents in charting lives of moral responsibility in their children. Sometimes even good parents are negligent parents, often becoming so involved in their jobs, their hobbies, and their other activities that they deny their children the thing they need most. Until parents assume their responsibility for guidance and lay down moral guidelines for their offspring we will have a growing problem of delinquency.

Kenneth Powell, Col. USAF Ret., now living in Hope, was introduced as the newest member of Hope Kiwanis Club at Tuesday's meeting.

Serious Brooder Goes After Big Worries, Not Trifling Things

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How are you coming along with your worry list?

The difference between the amateur brooder and the serious brooder is what they worry about. The amateur worrier worries about anything and everything. He doesn't get wrinkles fretting over trifles. He concentrates on the big worries.

With this in mind, it is a good idea for a fellow to weed out his worries periodically so he doesn't waste his time.

Here are a few problems and issues we've decided to put in our discard file and let somebody else worry about:

Would the U.S. foreign policy improve if we gave our diplomats overtime pay?

What, if anything, is being done to improve the working conditions of laboratory mice?

If we are to close the generation gap, does that mean adults will have to learn to act like teen-agers, or teen-agers learn to act like adults?

Why do they still call it the cocktail hour when sometimes it lasts till darned near morning?

Would it help solve your dog's identity problem if you fed him food from a personalized can with his very own name on the label?

Is golf taking the place of sex in the American way of life?

Can a marriage be saved if both the husband and the wife like to watch pro football games on television?

Why is it that the guy who wears them calls them dentures but everybody else calls them false teeth?

When a girl says she likes nothing better than to curl up with a good book, does she really mean it—or has she simply led an underprivileged life?

Why do college commencement speakers always advise the graduates to "live dangerously," when there isn't any other way for anybody to live?

Why do we celebrate Halloween only one night of the year?

when life seems like Halloween all the time now?

Yes, remember that successful worrying requires a wise choice of what you worry about. After all, it isn't the man who makes the worries—it's the worries that make the man.

Under Age But Bought Beverages

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Sharon Ann Martin testified Thursday that although she is underage she was able to buy alcoholic beverages at two stores in Conway County and at 26 others in Little Rock.

Mrs. Martin, 20-year-old former Morrilton resident, said she made the purchases as a result of requests by both sides in a liquor violations proceeding before the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

She said she bought beer and liquor from the I-40 Liquor Store and Rossi's Liquor Store in Conway County at the request of Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, who has filed numerous cases with the ABC alleging that the establishments have sold to minors.

Mrs. Martin said the Little Rock purchases were at the request of David Stewart of Danville, attorney for the two Conway County stores.

Stewart observed after Mrs. Martin's testimony that when a customer looks more than 21 years old, the legal age for buying alcoholic beverages, a liquor store is not going to ask for proof of age.

He said the Conway County stores were no more lax than those in Little Rock for not asking for proof of Mrs. Martin's age.

Mrs. Martin testified on the closing day of ABC hearings on allegations that the two Conway County stores sold to minors. The board took the matter in its advisement.

Tito Thinks Middle East Hopeless

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia rejected a Nixon administration suggestion that he help in the search for a solution to the Middle East crisis, sources say.

Informants said after the visiting marshal's meetings Thursday with President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers that Tito made it clear there was little if anything any third party can do if the opposing sides are unwilling to move.

The maverick Communist leader who long has sided with the Arabs in the Middle East dispute was reported to have argued there is no need to prepare new proposals on the issue because more than enough good plans already are on the table.

Rogers had asked indirectly last week for Tito's help in winning an interim agreement between Israel and Egypt that would permit reopening of the Suez Canal.

The State Department admitted Thursday the outlook for such an agreement was dim after both sides appeared to reject the U.S. proposal.

On another matter, Yugoslav sources said Nixon and Tito are drafting a communique as important to Belgrade as Nikita Khrushchev's 1955 apology that welcomed Yugoslavia back into the Soviet bloc.

Senior Tito aides refused to disclose details of the document except to say it will contain no "ideological mystifications" and will prove nations with different social systems can be friends.

House Vote Monday on School Bill

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's $1.5 billion school desegregation bill has been scheduled for a House vote Monday but under terms that could lead to its burial rather than its long-delayed passage.

The bill will be brought up under a procedure that permits only 40 minutes of debate, prohibits amendments from being offered and requires a two-thirds majority for passage.

The procedure is designed for quick action on non-controversial measures, which hardly describes the desegregation bill. It has been mired in controversy on Capitol Hill for 18 months.

Of limited House appeal to begin with, since it would provide funds only for school districts that are desegregating, it has become acutely distasteful to many members since the busing of pupils to overcome desegregation became a burning national issue.

President Nixon, asking the house to add an amendment prohibiting the use of any of the money for busing, added further to the controversy. Northern liberals who have supported busing for the South but are now faced with mounting antibusing sentiment at home don't want to have to vote on the amendment.

The procedure decided on by the House leadership for Monday's vote will protect those members since no amendments will be permitted. The decision has infuriated conservatives and antibusing Southerners who are anxious for such a vote, however, and there is considerable doubt that the bill can get the required two-thirds majority.
